

Eco-club (the_last_leaf) Shyam Lal College

Cleanliness Drive by SLC students in college campus

In Collaboration with

Department of Environment, Government of India

To live a better life is to keep one self-clean, both physically and mentally. Cleanliness is one of the good qualities and has got utmost importance. This is the reason why cleanliness is taught in everyone's life. Cleanliness starts from each of us. It can be personal cleanliness, cleanliness of our room, home, school, college or Street. It teaches us discipline. Cleanliness, Sanitization, and Hygiene (CSH) are very deep and thoughtful terms that must be inculcated by all to live a happy life. More than 50 % healing comes from the adoption of the CSH approach when taken in the right spirit. If this approach is adopted, then many diseases will automatically show a declining trend. Thus, we need to be more CSH conscious. We need to unite and take appropriate measures to mitigate the problem. Therefore, Our Eco-club team took initiative to promote, monitor and operate cleanliness of the college and they participated in various social/ environmental activities of the college as well as outside the college premises. This created environmental awareness among the students and future generations. Cleanliness drive was conducted by Eco- Club SLC in collaboration with the Department of Environment, Government of India during the Election time (8th-10th Sep 2016). 30 volunteers of Eco-club propagated an eco-friendly step towards an environment in which they interacted with the students and articulated to them about the importance of paper, its uses and misuses in the college campus.

SLC (University of Delhi)
SHYAM LAL COLLEGE

ECOCLUB (THE_LAST_LEAF)

IN COLLABORATION WITH
DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENT
(Government of India)

Presents
Cleanliness drive by slc students

8th -10th September 2016

DR. ARKAJA GOSWAMI (CONVENOR) DR. SUNAINA ZUTSHI (COORDINATOR) PROF. RABI NARAYAN KAR (PRINCIPAL)