Green businesses are key drivers of the economy in the current global business scenario. Among various green initiatives, waste recycling creates the highest positive impact on the environment. Electronic waste, characterized as the fastest-growing segment of waste, is the most valuable due to its basic composition and very hazardous if not handled carefully. To raise awareness, the Eco Club and SAP (Shyam Lal College) collaborated with the Department of Environment, NCT of Delhi, on a program on January 20th, 2023, focusing on knowledge-building sessions as part of environmental or science education. A model competition was organized to generate awareness among students about an e-waste drive for responsible recycling. Twenty students actively participated in this competition. The session was enlightening and served as a motivating factor for students to find suitable areas to initiate environmentally friendly businesses.
