Environmental awareness is key to a sustainable future. With this in mind, our team of 10 students from Shyam Lal College visited a marginalized area near Majnu Ka Teela to enlighten the community on 18th November 23. Engaging with a varied group, including working-class people, homemakers, seniors, and students, they measured environmental understanding through surveys and discussions. The team offered insights on practical measures, such as reducing plastic usage, saving electricity, opting for public transport to cut air pollution, and maintaining cleanliness. The initiative, focusing on personal and community hygiene and promoting paper and cloth bags for shopping, was well-received. The community is actively engaged, and eager to learn more about effective environmental solutions.
