On March 22nd, 2024, the Eco-Club of Shyam Lal College organized the "Safe Holi" campaign around the college campus and the nearby Shahdara on the eve of World Water Day. The initiative, aimed at promoting a safe and eco-friendly Holi celebration, involved 50 students, teachers and non-teaching staff. Participants created posters promoting natural colours and water conservation. They also developed sustainable alternatives to traditional Holi products like oils and lip balms. By visiting various parts of Shahdara and the campus, they inspired the community to adopt eco-friendly practices. Their efforts, including posters and slogans, have successfully encouraged many students and community members to switch to safer, more sustainable Holi celebrations.
