Shyam Lal College, University of Delhi, observed World Environment Day through a Poster Making Competition titled “Save Green, Breathe Clean” on 5th June 2025. The event was organized by the Eco-Club (the_last_leaf) and the Garden Committee in collaboration with the Department of Environment, NCT of Delhi. The competition aimed to sensitize students to pressing environmental concerns and to promote creative expression on themes of sustainability, conservation, and ecological responsibility. Participants were encouraged to depict innovative ideas for a greener and healthier environment through visual art. The initiative reflected SLC’s commitment as an NAAC A++ accredited institution to integrate environmental awareness with student engagement, and to align institutional activities with the broader goals of sustainable development.
