Dog Feeding Drive

As part of its commitment to animal welfare and community service, Enactus Shyam Lal College organized a Dog Feeding Drive on April 14, 2025 under its flagship initiative, Project PawShaak.

The drive was conducted in and around the Rajan Babu Institute of Pulmonary Medicine and Tuberculosis, near Guru Tej Bahadur Nagar Metro Station, where a significant number of stray dogs are often seen struggling for food and clean drinking water. The primary objective was to promote compassion towards stray animals, address immediate issues of hunger and malnutrition, and raise awareness among the local community about the importance of responsible treatment of strays.

Team Enactus sourced and distributed hygienic, nutritious meals and successfully fed over 25 stray dogs during the drive. In addition to food distribution, Enactus also installed several sustainable water bowls in the area to ensure that stray animals have consistent access to clean drinking water, especially during the ongoing summer season.

The initiative received a positive response from local residents and hospital staff, and it further strengthened Project PawShaak's mission of advocating for the welfare of stray animals. The drive not only provided immediate relief but also contributed to building a more humane and inclusive environment for animals through sustainable and impactful community action.
