The Falcon Films Society, the filmmaking society of Shyam Lal College, successfully organized an exciting on-the-spot photography competition, "Cryptic Lens," as part of the National Falcon Film Festival 7.0 (NFFF 7.0) on April 3, 2025. With a keen eye for the unseen and a passion for storytelling through the lens, this competition brought together talented photographers from across Delhi-NCR to challenge their photography skills and creative instincts under pressure.

The event kicked off in the Board Room of the Shyam Lal College, where all participating teams were warmly welcomed and briefed on the rules and theme of "Cryptic Lens." Participants were given a limited time to capture compelling photographs within the college premises, urging them to explore the hidden beauty and essence of the campus in real time.

The competition truly tested the skills, spontaneity, and artistic vision of each participant. From capturing not just faces, but emotions, moments, and stories, the entries reflected powerful and inventive narratives that captivated both the judges and the audience.

The judging panel included Dr. Raj Kumar Prasad (Convenor), Priya Ma'am, Awinash Sir, and two alumni of the Falcon Films Society, Ayush Jha and Armaan, both of whom are now working journalists.
